

Rhododendron alabamense (Alabama Azalea) 6-8ft; deciduous, white flowered with yellow blotch on upper part of flower tube; spring bloomer. Zone 7-9.

Rhododendron alabamense 'Catherine': a large flowered selection of R. alabamense. Very showy and fragrant. Typical white flower with yellow blotch.

Rhododendron alabamense 'Mary Brooke' is a very nice pale yellow bloomer

Rhododendron arborescens (Sweet Azalea) is named for its sweet aroma. This deciduous species can grow from 8-20ft. The flowers are white to light pink and bloom in May-July.

Rhododendron atlanticum (Coastal Azalea) low growing deciduous species. Coastal Azalea has white flowers with pink accents that bloom in April. It is a stoloniferous-plant that spreads by producing underground runners that create a colony that can grow up to 6 ft in width. This is very attractive when given room to grow. Partial shade-sun.

Rhododendron atlanticum x R. periclymenoides x R. austrinum 'My Mary' This is a beautiful yellow bloomer.

Rhododendron austrinum (Flame Azalea or Florida Flame Azalea) can grow up to 10ft. It is a multi-stemmed deciduous azalea. It has beautiful orange-yellow fragrant spring flowers

Rhododendron austrinum 'Apricot' is an apricot-colored selection. Fragrant April blooms

Rhododendron austrinum 'Don's Variegated' is an extremely nice selection. Big bright fragrant orange flowers with variegated foliage.

Rhododendron austrinum 'Millie Mac' is a selection of wild austrinum from Escambia County, Alabama. The reddish-orange buds give way to fragrant vivid yellow flowers with white margins.

Rhododendron austrinum 'Moonbeam' has yellow fragrant blooms

Rhododendron austrinum 'Reagan' origin of original plant not known for certain. Flowers have more red coloration than other *austrinum*s in our collection.

Rhododendron austrinum 'Super Truss Pink' robust large-trussed flowers with creamy pink appearance

Rhododendron austrinum x 'Aubie' is a wonderful selection made by the folks at Auburn University. It is an austrinum X Gibralter (Orange ruffles/mildew resistant) Blooms in spring, and appreciates partial shade.

Rhododendron austrinum x gibralter 'Tiger' is a wonderful selection made by the folks at Auburn University. It is an austrinum X Gibralter (Orange ruffles with yellow accents and mildew resistant) Blooms in spring, and appreciates partial shade.

Rhododendron canescens (Piedmont Azalea) grows 6-8ft. It has dark pink-white early spring flowers. They are open pollinated so shades of pink can vary. Deciduous. Plant in partial shade.

Rhododendron canescens 'Apple Blossom' This stunning Aaron Varnadoe canescens hybrid selection is named Apple Blossom because of the bloom resemblance.

Rhododendron canescens 'Claire' is a very nice pale pink selection. Fragrant blooms in March-April.

Rhododendron canescens 'Phlox Pink' is a popular dark to light pink canescens introduced by Aaron Varnadoe. The numerous blooms and large trusses make this azalea striking. Tolerates the heat and humidity of the deep south

Rhododendron canescens 'Summer Lynn' is a stunning bright pink selection Plant in partial shade.

Rhododendron colemanii (Red Hills Azalea) grows 8-12ft. It is a very nice late spring bloomer. Blooms can be white, pink, or yellow.

Rhododendron flammeum (Oconee Azalea) grows 6-8ft. It is the best native azalea for the south. The flower color varies due to open pollination (salmon, pink, yellow orange or red) blooms in spring

Rhododendron flammeum 'Best Red' has vibrant red flowers

Rhododendron flammeum 'Elberta' has gorgeous peach colored flowers

Rhododendron flammeum 'Florence' has brilliant orange flowers with yellow blotches

Rhododendron flammeum 'Jack Melton' is a vivid red cultivar selected by Earl Sommerville. Flowers bloom in ball like clusters

Rhododendron flammeum 'Jake's Red' is a dwarf selection (3-4ft). The flowers form ball-like clusters and are light red. Plant in partial shade

Rhododendron flammeum 'Mallory' (Rhododendron flammeum x R. flammeum) is an Earl Sommerville selection for the nice reddish bloom color with yellow blotch. Grows up to 8ft

Rhododendron flammeum 'Orange Carpet' is the smallest dwarf selection of flammeum available. Very nice spreading form. 3-4ft tall with bright orange flowers. Plant in partial sun-shade

Rhododendron flammeum x alabamense 'Purple Haze' has gorgeous pinkish-purple blooms. Blooms in April.

Rhododendron 'Razzberry' (Rhododendron flammeum x R. periclymenoides) is an Earl Somerville selection that has raspberry colored flowers with a bright yellow blotch. Grows 4-6 ft.

Rhododendron minus (Piedmont Rhododendron) grows 3-6ft. It is an evergreen, spring bloomer. Pink flowers. Needs partial shade

Rhododendron prunifolium (Plumleaf Azalea) grows up to 15 ft. Needs partial shade. Orange-red flowers bloom July-August. Adding this species to your native Rhododendron collection will certainly extend the flowering time of your garden. Zones 5-9

Rhododendron viscosum (Swamp Azalea) grows 5-7ft tall and wide. It has white fragrant flowers that bloom in the summer. Thrives in partial shade and can take moist areas.

Rhododendron x 'Addison' is a great hybrid selection that has beautiful pink flowers with a yellow blotch

Rhododendron x 'Admiral Semmes' is a very nice yellow-flowered selection from the Confederate Series Collection. Very nice color and shape. Does very well in the southern heat and humidity

Rhododendron x 'Clear Creek' has clusters of large yellow blooms that make this Aromi hybrid a must for the southern garden border. Plant in partial shade and well drained soil. Blooms mid Spring.

Rhododendron x 'Colonel Mosby' has very bright deep pink blooms with yellow accents. (From the "Confederate Series" of native azaleas). "The Confederate Series" was selected from a cross of Rhododendron austrinum and Rhododendron x 'Hotspur Yellow'. The cross was made by Bob Schwindt; seeds were planted from the plants, and selections were made by Bob himself to make up the popular "Confederate Series" of native azaleas. These azaleas do well in the deep south heat and humidity. Zones 6-9

Rhododendron x 'Stonewall Jackson' (Confederate Series) has large orange-red flowers. Very nice heavy blooming selection.